

- VERITAS-CCI is about the mutual verification of climate predictions (seasonal-to-decadal) and observations from CCI. Towards a joint uncertainty assessment for decision-making.
- Climate models can inform about quality of observational references. Observational uncertainty is a dominant source of verification uncertainty.

Better observations, better scores

Dominating source of uncertainty

